

Central Sterilising Club – Study Day 2019

Monday 16 September 2019

Nottingham Belfry

First, do no harm: A study day to explore the essentials of medical device decontamination

- 09:30 Registration and refreshments
- 10:00 Welcome
- 10:10 – 10:30 How critical is Spaulding? Is it time to re-evaluate the risk?
Karren Staniforth, Clinical Scientist, Nottingham University Hospital
- 10:30 – 11:00 Experience of a patient lookback following failures in decontamination at a community dental practice
Vanessa MacGregor, Communicable disease Control Consultant
- 11:00 – 11:30 Coffee and snacks
- 11:30 - 12:00 Understanding the burden of the harm: an insight into the importance of surgical site infection surveillance
Sid Mookerjee, Hammersmith Hospital
- 12:00 – 12:30 Personal experiences reviewing decontamination practices for ENT provision within the NHS
John Prendergast, AE(D), Senior Decontamination Engineer, NHS Wales Shared Partnership, Specialist Estates Services
- 12:30 – 13:00 Decontamination of semi-critical ultrasound probes: A clinical users Perspective
Peter Cantin, Consultant Sonographer, University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust
- 13:00 - 13:15 Questions for the panel
- 13:15 – 14:15 Lunch
- 14:15 – 14:45 Centralisation and quality improvement: the case for centralised TOE probe decontamination
Sharon Fox, Trust Decontamination CDEU & Sterile Service Manager University Hospitals Birmingham NHS Foundation Trust
- 14:45 – 15:15 In the hands of the supplier
Mark Campbell, Decontamination Lead, Cardiff & Vale University Health Board
- 15:15 – 15:45 Investigating Failures to Decontaminate: When do you tick all the boxes, What Next?
Karen Tweed, Deputy Operations Director (Decontamination) Sheffield Northern General Hospital
- 15:45 – 16:00 Questions and closing remarks
- 16:00 Close